The Plutes had a big pow-wow near Wadsworth, Nev., that lasted all of last week. The burden of the speeches made by the old men was in favor of total abstinence from liquor, and the rising generation were urged to go to school at Carson.

The Battle Mountain Messenger berates the woman in that section who spread evil reports of young girls. A lady of good moral character never spread scandalous stories of young girls. When a woman begins to do that sort of thing it is only an attempt to direct public suspicion which she thinks may possibly, and with good cause, be directed to herself.

N. S. N. A. R.

District Attorney Torreyson has received the following letter from the headquarters of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, 1419 F street, Washington, D. C.:

DEAR SIR: As the officer having in charge organization in the States in which we are not at present organized, I counseled with Senator Wm. M. Stewart and Representative Horace F. Bartine, of your State, and they both agree that you are the best person to whom authority could be given to organize the "Nevada Society of the Sons of the American Revolution," and they also consent to serve upon the organizing committee with you. I therefore appoint the following committee: James D. Torreyson, Chairman; Senator Wm. M. Stewart, Representative Horace F. Bartine, to organize the "Nevada Society of the Sons of the American Revolution." You, as Chairman, are authorized to appoint such other gentlemen to serve with you on the committee, as you see fit, from citizens eligible for membership (see enclosed Constitution); to invite through the press the descendants of the men of the American Revolution resident in your State to send in their names to your committee, that you may forward them blank applications for membership; to call a meeting of your committee to adopt the Constitution which I enclose, and to elect officers—in general, to do any and everything that may be necessary to organize the Nevada Society S. A. R. in right hands. I enclose you our form of State Constitution, copies of the Registrar-General's Circular No. 1, and several copies of our blank forms of application for membership, and I will mail you today a Constitution Book to be signed by all your members.

Our official paper is the Republic, published by Henry Hall, corner Spruce and Nassau streets, New York, at the rate of $1 a year to societies for their full membership.

We do hope you will be organized in time to be regularly represented at our first National Congress at Louisville, Ky., April 30th—this month.

Please report your proceedings in duplicate, one copy to me and one to the Secretary-General, Lieutenant J. C. Cresap, U. S. N., Annapolis, Md.

Each of the State Societies takes the greatest patriotic date as their anniversary and annual meeting day; the Eastern States have taken their greatest Revolutionary event, the Western States the date of their admission to the Union.

I have instructed the Secretary to send you 300 blank applications for membership.

If you cannot have a full meeting, with time to have the notices go through your press all over the State, and be heard from I suggest that you of Carson City have a meeting, adopt the Constitution, elect a temporary President and Secretary, and two delegates to the Louisville Congress of April 30th. If none of your members can go, elect either Mr. Stewart, or Mr. Bartine, President, the other delegates at large, and I will serve as delegate. As a member of the New Jersey Society, I am eligible. Write me up to the 27th here; after that care of the Galt House, Louisville, Ky. Sincerely yours, Wm. O. McDowell, Vice President-General.

QUERY.—Where did those Louisiana lottery tickets come from which are reported to have won the first prize in Reno and Verdi last week? The officers of the lottery give the places where the whole ten coupons were sold, and they were all in the Eastern States except three. One of the three was sold in Los Angeles, Cal., one in San Louis Obispo and the other in Glenwood, Cal. Yet, the agent who purchased the ticket reported to have won in this State declares he bought all of his direct from New Orleans! Now, was that ticket counterfeit, or is the reported winning untrue?—Journal.

Counterfeit Louisiana lottery tickets have been flooding the market for years, and all sorts of tricks like this come to light every month. One has no surty of getting the genuine tickets, and many of the reports of big prizes being won are fakes and have been so demonstrated by the newspapers. Yet, Nevada people love to quietly send their money to this concern run by Southern Brigadiers, and when a home lottery is mentioned their faces assume a highly moral look, and they say such a thing would be a bad example to the world.

Allen Garner Once More.

Allen Garner, the colored Government official who rushed into print a few weeks ago to denounce as a liar any one who said he owed the U. S. Surveyor General, is once more on the war path, abusing the editor of the Gazette and others. Among other things he says:

"While I do not deny having creditors in Nevada, I do insist that he lies, who says that my creditors did not know of my whereabouts."

Of course everybody knows perfectly well of Garner's whereabouts, but precious little good that does them. Knowing the "whereabouts" of a creditor and getting money of him are two very distinct and different things. The main thing his Nevada creditors want to know is the whereabouts of something belonging to Garner that they can attach.

COAST NEWS.

W. J. Decker, a saloon-keeper at Julian, San Diego county, blew his brains out with a shotgun Thursday.

A body found in water at Sacramento has been identified as that of John Schweizer, a plasterer, who formerly lived in San Francisco.

E. B. Buckingham, aged sixty years, was killed by a fall over a bridge about nine miles from Santa Cruz yesterday. His horse backed his dog-cart over the bridge.

Distribution of Trout.

In about four months matters will be in such shape at the State Fish Hatchery at Lake Tahoe that young trout can be shipped to various river and lake waters. Messrs. Burton, Hunt and Shipley are at the hatchery attending to the work, and for the past few weeks Superintendent Woodbury of the State Commission has been there also. It is planned to put a lot of these fish in headwaters of the American and Truckee rivers. The hatchery alluded to is the one on the California side. Where is the Nevada hatchery?

GOOD AMATEUR WORK.—There is an oil painting at Cagwin & Note-ware's representing three rocks beaten by the surf. The general effect of the picture is excellent. There is a dash of strength rarely met with in amateur work. The sky has a good distance, and the sea harmonizes well with it. The picture is by Mrs. J. C. Harlow, and the lady is to be congratulated on her effort.

THE STATS AND STRIPES.—On Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the children of the public schools will assist at a flag raising over the central school house. Songs by the children, an address by Judge Hawley and music by the band will constitute the programme. The flag is the property of the schools, and will be defended by the youngsters to the last.

Editor Campbell was down in Carson yesterday looking over the improvements of the city. He was dressed in a new suit of clothes (Gabriel double column advertisement six month contract) and when interrogated on the political outlook says that it is too early to bother with politics now. No one in Storey bothers about politics until after the fourth of July.
